MRS. ALEXANDER'S GUEST ACCOM-PANIED BY A WORK-BASKET.

She is Quite Numerous and "Spends Afternoon" in the Good Old-Fashioned Way-Unique Railroad Party Given Where the Guests Change Cars, Have Their Tickets Punched and Get Twenty Minutes for Dinner-Hypatia Talks About Paychology and Such-Society News in General.

That life which Wichita society failed to show during the holidays, was only behind time. It came in full force the last week. Parties were numerous and of divers kind and style. An old-fashioned "spend the afternoon" was what was enjoyed by about twenty of the friends of Mrs. A. V. Alexander upon Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being complimentary to her husband's mother who is visiting her from Larned. The invitation included a request to bring your "sewing," which was most heartly complied with Table spreads, dolles side board covers, and even old-fashioned patch work quilts of red and white squares were resuscitated from top drawers of many bureaus and diligent-

The delights of an afternoon pleasant conversation were supplenented by a delicious luncheon served at 5 o'clock. A table in the middle of the dining room was occupied by the mothers. The younger ladies were acmothers. The younger ladies were accommodated at "tete-a-tetes" distrib-uted through the rooms The guests of this delightful occasion were: Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Amos Harris, Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, Mrs. James H. Todd, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Corbett (Scott). Mrs. Lee Corbett, Mrs. C. J. Fletcher, Mrs. George Strong, Mrs. I. P. Camp-bell, Mrs. J. C. Rutan, Mrs. R. P. Mur-dock, Mrs. F. Cone, Mrs. Laycock, Mrs. Kos Harris, Mrs. Parks.

HYPATIA ON PSYCHOLOGY. An unusually interesting meeting of Hypatia was held at the rooms of this club upon Monday afternoon. Every chair in the room was taken and great interest was manifested in the subject for the day, which was "Psychology." After the roll-call an instrumental selection was well rendered by Miss Jessie Clark, Webber's Invitation to Waltz, A black board exercise by Mrs. M. E. Hoss gave the divisions of mental philosophy as laid down by Up-ham and other teachers of this science. This was found to be very interesting. Mrs. Colling's topic was "The Evolu-tion of the Mind." and was well hand-led. A paper by Mrs. A. M. Sturdevant "Mind Development of the Child." was accorded the strictest attention met with hearty applause. Mrs. Hoss' paper, an analysis of Scott's Monastery and a critical study of the Marble Faun, was thoroughly studied and well delivered, the only regret express-ed being that the teachers and mothers in the city could not have had the pleasure of hearing the entire program.
At the close a delightful address was given by Mrs. Alexander of Larned.
The club of which she is a member took its inspiration from Hypatia and is formed upon the same plan. Thus the fame is spreading of this oldest literary club in the city CORAL HARRIS' PARTIES.

Wednesday evening in the pariors of the Carey, Mrs. Ed Vail, Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Oldham entertained the members of the Afternoon Whist club and their husbands. It was called a "railroad party," the players progressing from one table to another, the tables being designated as stations, and the tickets passing for score cards. These were furnished by Misses Talbott and Harwood, conductors. CITY CLERK PROVES IT BEYOND A REASONABLE DOUBT.

smith Shows by the City Records Jus What Is the Bonded Debt-He Ther Proves That a Tax Levy of 2 Per Cent on a Cash Value Assessment Would Very Nearly Pay It-The Paving Bonds Charged to Property Holders Are Not a City Debt-Something That Every Lady Should Know.

City Clerk Smith stands ready to prove the assertion of Mayor Cox. which was to the effect that few cities are in better financial condition than Wichita.

The efficient city clerk declares that taking into consideration that Wichita has one of the finest city buildings in the west and a number of buildings for the use of the fire department and all the business streets paved, that the city of Wichita has a small bonded

People usually suppose that because Wichita has these improvements and has secured railroads enough to make this the railroad center of the southwest that she must of necessity have a great bonded debt. This is just what Mayor Cox disclaimed and now Mr. Smith comes forward with the proof, and he gets the proof from the records in the city clerk's office where a perfect account of all the business transactions of the city are kept.

When asked if he could give the exact amount of the bonded debt of Wichita Mr. Smith said of course he could. He then stated that while the paving bonds were guaranteed by the city that they were no more a city debt than school district bonds are a state debt, because their payment was guaranteed by the state.

The obliging city clerk brought out his books and after adding up a long column of figures he said: "There is just the amount of our bonded debt." The footing showed $596,694.36. The amount charged up to Main and Market streets and Douglas avenue for paving bonds is just $343,004.95, leaving the bonded debt of the city $353,

These figures will be found to be much less than even people here in Wichita who have not kept posted on the city's business supposed they were. Mr. Smith declared that there was no more probability that the city would have to pay the paving bonds issued for Douglas avenue Main and Market streets than there was that the city would have to pay for the business houses built on these business thor-oughfares. Then anybody who can figure will be able to tell whether this debt will ever be likely to prove a bur-den to property holders in the city. Mr. Smith says the assessed value of all city property is $5,292,000 on a basis of 30 per cent of cash value. A tax levy of 7 per cent would give $370,-440,00 This would pay the pres-ent bonded debt of the city and leave more than enough to pay the amount voted to prospect for coal or gas. It is generally supposed that the legislature will pass a law compelling the assessment of all property at cash value for purposes of taxation. If this is done the assessed value of Wichita property would be about $17,600,000. In that event a tax levy of 2 per cent would very nearly pay the city's bonded debt.

AMERICA HAS FIRST CHANCE.

But They Go Elsewhere for Cable Capital If San Franceco, Jan. 12.—F. M. Hatch, Hawatian minister of foreign affairs Austria today, says that the main object of his trip is to push the project for a cable between San Francisco and Henolulu. He says that the Hawaiians do not like the idea of foreign capital invested in an enterprise which they think should be purely American. Hatch says if the capitol cannot be secured in this country, it will be sought elsewhere. The plan of the Hawalians is to utilize Neckar island as a station when the cable is faid, with a supple-
